John J. Horton is Deputy Librarian of the University of Bradford and currently Chairman of its Academic Board of Studies in Social Sciences. He has maintained a longstanding interest in the discipline of area studies and its associated bibliographical problems, with special reference to European Studies. In particular he has published in the field of Icelandic and of Yugoslav studies, including the two relevant volumes in the World Bibliographical Series.

Robert A. Myers is Associate Professor of Anthropology in the Division of Social Sciences and Director of Study Abroad Programs at Alfred University, Alfred, New York. He has studied post-colonial island nations of the Caribbean and has spent two years in Nigeria on a Fulbright Lectureship. His interests include international public health, historical anthropology and developing societies. In addition to Amerindians of the Lesser Antilles: a bibliography (1981), A Resource Guide to Dominica, 1493-1986 (1987) and numerous articles, he has compiled the World Bibliographical Series volumes on Dominica (1987), Nigeria (1989) and Ghana (1991).

Ian Wallace is Professor of German at the University of Bath. A graduate of Oxford in French and German, he also studied in Tübingen, Heidelberg and Lausanne before taking teaching posts at universities in the USA, Scotland and England. He specializes in contemporary German affairs, especially literature and culture, on which he has published numerous articles and books. In 1979 he founded the journal GDR Monitor, which he continues to edit under its new title German Monitor.

Hans H. Wellisch is Professor emeritus at the College of Library and Information Services, University of Maryland. He was President of the American Society of Indexers and was a member of the International Federation for Documentation. He is the author of numerous articles and several books on indexing and abstracting, and has published The Conversion of Scripts, Indexing and Abstracting: an International Bibliography and Indexing from A to Z. He also contributes frequently to Journal of the American Society for Information Science, The Indexer and other professional journals.

Ralph Lee Woodward, Jr. is Director of Graduate Studies at Tulane University, New Orleans, where he has been Professor of History since 1970. He is the author of Central America, a Nation Divided, 2nd ed. (1985), as well as several monographs and more than sixty scholarly articles on modern Latin America. He has also compiled volumes in the World Bibliographical Series on Belize (1980), Nicaragua (1983), and El Salvador (1988). Dr. Woodward edited the Central American section of the Research Guide to Central America and the Caribbean (1985) and is currently editor of the Central American history section of the Handbook of Latin American Studies.

THE WORLD BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SERIES

This series, which is principally designed for the English speaker, will eventually cover every country (and many of the world's principal regions), each in a separate volume comprising annotated entries on works dealing with its history, geography, economy and politics; and with its people, their culture, customs, religion and social organization. Attention will also be paid to current living conditions – housing, education, newspapers, clothing, etc.– that are all too often ignored in standard bibliographies; and to those particular aspects relevant to individual countries. Each volume seeks to achieve, by use of careful selectivity and critical assessment of the literature, an expression of the country and an appreciation of its nature and national aspirations, to guide the reader towards an understanding of its importance. The keynote of the series is to provide, in a uniform format, an interpretation of each country that will express its culture, its place in the world, and the qualities and background that make it unique. The views expressed in individual volumes, however, are not necessarily those of the publisher.

531 Education in the states of equatorial Africa: a bibliographical essay.
David E. Gardinier. Africana Journal, vol. 3, no. 3 (1972), p. 7-20.
Focusing on education, this bibliographical essay provides both colonial and post-colonial sources.

532 Bibliographie d'histoire coloniale, 1900-1930, Belgique. (A bibliography of colonial history, 1900-1930 – Belgium.)
Michel Huisman, Paul Jacquet. Paris: Société de l'Histoire des Colonies Françaises, 1932. 81p.
This useful bibliography contains mainly official Belgian sources, some of which offer information on the French Congo and relations between the two Congos and their colonial masters.

533 Sources d'information sur l'Afrique noire Francophone et Madagascar. (Information sources on Francophone black Africa and Madagascar.)
Laurence Porges. Paris: Ministéré de la Co-operation, 1988. 389p.
The best of the most recent French-language bibliographies related to the Congo.

534 Official publications of French Equatorial Africa, French Cameroons and Togo, 1946-1958.
Julian W. Witherell. Washington, DC: Library of Congress, 1964. 78p.
Scholars pursuing studies in Congolese colonial history and politics will find this short work essential in locating post-Second World War official French sources.

535 French-speaking central Africa: a guide to official publications in American libraries.
Julian W. Witherell. Washington, DC: Library of Congress, 1973. 314p.
This excellent bibliographical reference deals mainly with official or officially-sponsored publications, articles and translations, from the colonial era and the immediate post-independence period. This bibliography contains seventy-two specific entries on the Congo as well as more general material which includes the Congo.

536 The United States and Africa: a guide to U.S. official documents and government sponsored publications 1785-1975.
Julian W. Witherell. Washington, DC: Library of Congress, 1978. 949p.
This large, general bibliography contains some sources on the history of US-Congolese relations.

Index

The index is a single alphabetical sequence of authors (personal and corporate), titles of publications and subjects. Index entries refer both to the main items and to other works mentioned in the notes to each item. Title entries are in italics. Numeration refers to individual items.
